

ASTROLOGY

2023 QUARTER 2

The full moon in Libra at  $16^\circ$  on April 6 lovingly holds a mirror to her dear Sun in Aries at 12:34 am, that's where you start and they begin. On April 11 Venus enters Gemini. Friends and lovers find intimacy with inside jokes. Enemies will trick you into bad haircuts. If everyone likes it then maybe it's not that good. Sun conjunct Jupiter in Aries later that same day. My natal Sun and Jupiter are conjunct. This transit is the astrological interpretation of lucky girl syndrome. TOTAL ARIES ECLIPSE  $29^\circ$  on 4/20 at 4:12 am. Humility brings you closer to God. The Sun enters lazing, loving Taurus on 4/20 blaaaaze iiiiit ;p. Take a hike. In the woods. Or on the couch. Too bad I wasn't there to give Dylan and Eric this advice. Mercury retrograde in Taurus joins the sun on May 1. You usually know exactly what to say but this time you might actually say it. Pluto stations retrograde in Aquarius on May 1. When I was a kid and everyone got scared I would stand still thinking I was brave. A partial lunar eclipse in Scorpio on May 5 around 5:30pm. Do you remember eclipse season last may/november? There's a crack in everything, that's how the light gets in, silly. Venus into Cancer on May 7. Supple cleavage in a white cotton blouse and denim cutoffs. The Sun in Taurus meets Uranus on May 9 and rationality takes center stage. Mercury in Taurus stations direct on May 15, finally, spit it out, slow poke. Jupiter enters Taurus on May 15, shawty down the street staaaayyys stacked (talking about myself). Jupiter in Taurus square Pluto in Aquarius on May 17. I keep regressing on the floor at work. Are you coping? A Taurus new moon on May 19. Finally, it's not an eclipse. Y'all mind if I let it Linger?

Mars enters Leo on May 20, Boys love driving fast because they fear death. Little Bastard, you killed James Dean (gay guy)! Sun in Gemini May 21, I don't care if you're gonna be polyamorous just don't do it in front of me and my kids. Mars square Jupiter in Aries on May 23 and we're stepping out in a big way. Buckle up, buttercup. The Sag full moon breathes in the Gemini sun on June 3rd, you've manifested the perfect verbal comeback. Will it soothe you to put your foot in your mouth? Mercury conjunct Uranus in Taurus on June 4. Now is the chance to change your perspective, things are making much more sense. Venus enters Leo on June 5 and love comes in the form of liquid gold and bleeding hearts. Mercury enters Gemini on June 11. I'm not afraid to say anything. That's why everyone wants to kill me or have sex with me. Usually both and in that order. A Gemini New Moon on June 18 clears a path for intellectual beginnings. The Sun enters Cancer on June 21. I find Cancer to be the most sexual sign of the zodiac. She's Mother. Isn't it funny how if I were to conceive during Cancer season my baby could be born an Aries? Mercury enters Cancer on June 26 and unfortunately, I do not care about your period tracking app and I will not download it. Mars in Leo wants to get freaky in public but Uranus in Taurus gives you the choice to reign it in. Neptune goes retrograde on June 30, misty, delusional, drowning, nothing is what it seems.
